

Dreams come true – 2015

Josef Haid

New born

We've been waiting so long, trying to imagine, you little baby in our arms
Since you have come, all the hardship is gone, now we're asking to ourselves
Who will you be, what will you see, what's your life's journey gonna be?
Who will you be, what will you see, what's your life's journey gonna be?

Giving lots of our love, that's our promise to you
Giving lots of our love, and a helping hand too
Giving lots of our love, being there for you
Giving lots of our love, that's our promise to you, that's our promise to you

Looking in your eyes, trying to imagine, all the things you gonna see
Looking at your lips, trying to imagine, all the things you gonna say
Who will you be, what will you see, what's your life's journey gonna be?

Giving lots of our love, that's our promise to you
Giving lots of our love, and a helping hand too
Giving lots of our love, being there for you
Giving lots of our love, that's our promise to you, that's our promise to you

Looking at your hands, trying to imagine, all the things you gonna do
Looking at your feet, trying to imagine, all the places you will go
We promise to be, good parents to you, lets hope we're gonna be of the chosen few

Giving lots of our love, that's our promise to you
Giving lots of our love, and a helping hand too
Giving lots of our love, being always there for you
Giving lots of our love, that's our promise to you
... that's our promise to you
